HOAGLAND'S
NEW PATENT SHAFT COUPLING!
W. E. COOPER

HAS PURCHASED THE RIGHT FOR THIS County of the above Patent, and will hereafter use it in the construction of all the Vehicles manufactured at his extensive

Carriage Factory,
Corner of Second and Morrison Streets.

He respectfully refers to the following

CARD.

Having examined the New Patent Shaft Coupling, invented by H. R. Hoagland, we feel pleasure in informing the public that in our opinion it is the safest and best method of connecting shafts or tongues to all vehicles that has ever been used.

It fastens without bolt or screw, and is therefore, easily and speedily separated. It rests on Gutta Percha so as to be entirely free from the rattling sound which so often disturbs restless horses. It is easily changed so that the shafts or tongue may be detached in an instant, and is convenient, safe and secure.

It is easy to change to this style of coupling any buggy or other vehicle now in use, and with small expense. We have come to the conclusion to use this new invention ourselves and recommend its use in all cases. We consider it far superior to the Brewster Patent, heretofore considered the best in use.

[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

EASTERN DATES TO MAY 4.

Congressional.

WASHINGTON, May 4.—In the Senate, Morgan presented additional petitions asking Congress to abolish national banks and redeem the bonds deposited by them as security, and to issue fifty millions treasury notes, and make them receivable for customs dues and all other taxes collected by the Federal Government, and to pay off the 10-40 bonded debt.

Bills passed to aid in the construction of the Oregon branch of the Pacific railroad, authorizing the Southern Minnesota railroad to connect their line with the Northern Pacific, and the House bill to amend the bankrupt act in relation to its operations in Territories.

In the House, Wells, from the Committee on Decline of American Commerce, reported a bill authorizing a mail steamship service from New Orleans, monthly, to Tampico, Vera Cruz and Havana.

Washington News in General

WASHINGTON, May 4.—The President has nominated W. McClellan, United States Attorney for Nebraska.

The War Department sent a telegram to Fort Fetterman granting the request of Red Cloud and twelve of his principal chiefs to come to Washington and see the President. The Indian Agent is instructed to make the necessary arrangements.

CHICAGO, May 4.—A Washington special says the bill granting land for a railroad from Omaha to a point near Fort Berthold, Dakotah, which passed the Senate yesterday, gives twenty sections of land per mile for about 1,000 miles—an aggregate of about 7,000,000 acres.

WASHINGTON, May 4.—At a meeting of the sub-Committee of the House on Pacific Railroads this evening a resolution was adopted favoring the construction of a railroad on 32d parallel, and for giving a franchise to the Southern trans-continental company.

New York News.

NEW YORK, May 4.—The Chamber of Commerce celebrates its one hundred and second anniversary to-morrow.

Colonel A. Wilson has resigned his position as Inspector of Customs.

It is reported that ex-Marshal Francis Barlow will succeed District Attorney Pierpont on June first.

The arguments in the suit of Fisk, Jr., against the Union Pacific railroad will be renewed to-morrow before Judge Nelson.

The trial of Rev. Chas. B. Smythe has terminated in his acknowledging his guilt. In view of extenuating circumstances he was only reprimanded by the Presbytery.

NEW YORK, May 5.—A private conference was held yesterday, at Sheriff O'Brien's office, by the leaders of the Young Democracy for the purpose, it is rumored, of agreeing upon terms of coalition to be offered the other wing of the party.

From New Orleans.

NEW ORLEANS, May 4.—A shooting affray occurred last night between John Barrett, local reporter on the Picayune, and ex-special police officer Smith. The latter was dangerously wounded and the former slightly. The ex special officer will die. Another gentleman was shot and dangerously wounded during the difficulty. The cause was animadversions of the Picayune on the special metropolitan police, and the publication by Smith of a scurrilous circular on Barrett.

Last evening a sawmill in Bear harbor was burnt, the fire extending to a lumber yard. Several vessels were badly damaged; loss $25,000.

St. Louis Election.

ST. LOUIS, May 4.—Full returns of the election yesterday give Taylor, Democrat, 347 majority.

Complaint is made in the criminal court that Coburn, the pugilist, robbed two men of $720 last Friday night. A requisition will be applied for and Coburn will probably be brought here before the Allen-Mace fight.

Further Indian Troubles.

SOUTH PASS, May 4.—A party of 300 Indians came in near Atlantic City this morning and drove off a herd of stock. Maj. Gordon's company of cavalry followed them and brought back all the stock. Col. Anthony, who has just come in from Atlantic City, says the hills are full of Indians. A large party of Indians were seen below here this morning.

Connecticut Legislature

NEW HAVEN, Ct., May 4.—The Legislature assembled to-day. Lafayette C. Foster was chosen Speaker of the House and Edward Harlan President of the Senate, both Republicans.

Miscellaneous.

NEW HAVEN, May 4.—Gov. English was inaugurated to-day. In his message he recommends a convention for the revision of the State Constitution to facilitate the operation of the Fifteenth Amendment.

TORONTO, May 4.—Preparations for the Red River expedition continue. Large quantities of military stores are being dispatched to Collingwood and Fort William. Volunteers in great numbers are arriving.

TRENTON, May 4.—The city is without police, the time for which the old force was appointed has expired, and the Common Council being tied and having politically failed to organize, no new force is appointed.

CHESTER, Pa., May 4.—The cotton mill of Brewster & McCree was burned yesterday, loss, $60,000; partly insured; supposed by incendiary.

BY THE CABLES.

PARIS, May 4.—The arrest of members of the International Society at Strasbourg and Rouen, continues. It is estimated that over 2,000 persons have been arrested since Saturday.

BERLIN, May 3.—There is great indignation here against the Committee of Stock Exchange for warning the public against recently issued American railroad securities. The premature action of the committee here has caused much inconvenience, especially as official brokers shared lists have refused to quote securities.

LONDON, May 4.—Princess Helena, wife of Prince Christian, has give birth to a daughter.

CALIFORNIA.

From San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 5.—The Workingmen's Protective Association, ostensibly organized to aid the unemployed, had a lively time at Irish-American Hall last night. Both factions were on hand in full force. Foley, President of the Workingmen's Society, got possession of the stage at the outset, and attempted to read a call for a meeting and address, but was interrupted by Goodman, Vice President of the San Francisco Workingmen's Association, who called on him to leave the stage. Goodman was ordered out of the hall, but defied the opposite faction to touch him. A free fight took place, and music, pet names, and missiles of various descriptions filled the air. The Goodman crowd stood their ground and repelled the first assault. Foley then declared the meeting adjourned, and Goodman, who declared that he had paid for the hall that night, attempted to reach the stage by way of an ante-room, but failed. Foley announced that railroad capital had paid for the hall and no meeting could be held there that night. The [illegible] "[illegible] Fair" was then [illegible] with evident relish for some time, and finally J. F. Cowdry obtained the stage and [illegible] an armistice with a view to [illegible]. Foley said he was willing [illegible] the stage [illegible] had the [illegible]. Cowdry then [illegible] his remarks [illegible] They were [illegible] dedicated to the use of the [illegible], still he hoped they would [illegible] nothing to be done in that [illegible] in any manner to them. A motion was [illegible] that the meeting adjourn, which was [illegible] and carried. The crowd then [illegible] peaceably dispersed.

The Mexicans here are celebrating the anniversary of the defeat of the French at Puebla, by salutes, to-day.

It is reported that Gov. Haight has appointed Judge Lake Judge of the new municipal court, and Hon. Edward Stanly to fill the vacancy in the county court occasioned by the transfer of Judge Lake.

The first game of the billiard tournament for the championship of the Pacific coast was played last night between John H. Mott, Jr., and Wm Terrell. The score stood—Mott 1,001 in 99 innings; Terrell 891 in 97 innings.

The steamer Idaho, from Honolulu arrived this morning.

BY STATE TELEGRAPH.

CORVALLIS, May 5.—Joe Hunt's brewery was consumed by fire last night between eleven and twelve o'clock. Cause unknown; insured in the Pacific Insurance Company for $3,800. Nothing saved, building and stock a total loss.

The Voyage of the Shoshone.

LEWISTON, April 28th, 1870.

EDITOR OREGONIAN:

It is a subject worthy of note to chronicle an achievement made by Capt. Miller, and those under him, in successfully navigating the steamer Shoshone down through the canyon made by the Snake river through the main chain of the Salmon River mountains, and to this place, without damage to either boat or machinery in the amount of fifty dollars.

Nearly every man conversant with the character of the Snake river through this pass, have repeatedly declared that no steamboat could ever be taken through without a total wreck. Yet at 9 o'clock this morning, the whistle of the Shoshone startled the people of Lewiston, and called them to the landing, at the junction of Snake and Clear Water river, to witness her round to, in as good style, and apparently in as sound and healthy condition as any boat which has made the landing here this season, save the small damage done to her stem, and a few broken buckets to her wheel.

The Shoshone was taken down to a point about 30 miles below the mouth of Powder river last season, and tied up and left in charge of John Livingston and one Smith, for the winter. This point is distant from this place about 150 miles, which distance embraces about 100 miles of the worst navigation of Snake river, between its mouth and the mouth of Malade river, just below Fishing Falls. The river runs through a canyon of the Salmon range of mountains, almost continuous, from the point of starting of the boat till it reaches the junction of the Grand Ronde, about 35 miles above this place. Its banks are perpendicular cliffs, hundreds of feet in height, breaking back and upwards with other cliffs and steep grades till the summit of the mountain is reached, several miles from the channel of the river. The channel of the river is narrow and crooked, and in many places obstructed by projecting cliffs and reefs, from either bank, as well as occasional rocks projecting above the surface of mid channel. The current in many of these places is not less than 60 miles to the hour.

Such is a feeble sketch of the route of the Shoshone, which has nevertheless been navigated by her under steam, and she has emerged therefrom and arrived here safely. The memoranda kept by the engineer, shows that on the 20th inst. the Shoshone, officered and manned as follows: S. E. Miller, Captain; J. Livingston, Master; D. E. Buchanan, Engineer; Michael Smith, fireman, and Wm. Hedges, cook and deck hand; "steamed up and started at 9 o'clock A. M., and run down to Copper Creek Falls, breaking her stem and most of the buckets in her wheel; tied up at foot of falls, repaired the wheel and remained till morning of the 21st at 9 A. M., run down to Oregon bar, before 11 A. M.; stopped and took on wood, started again at ½ past 2 P. M., and at 5 P. M. arrived at foot of big canyon; stopped all night, and made further repairs on wheel, stormy through the night, and also on the 22d, and river already rising; on the 23d steamed up at 9 A. M., run a short distance and stopped to gather up wood; started again at 11 A. M., but was soon compelled to stop on account of high wind; gathered wood the remainder of the day.

On the 24th, steamed up and started at half past 8 A. M.; a portion of the channel very crooked; made several stops during the day to prospect the river; run only about eight miles during the day, and tied up at Pine Flat at 1 P. M.; out and gathered wood the balance of the day.

Capt. Miller having accomplished his work, has reported himself to the agent here and will wait further orders.

Both Captain and Engineer, and I may say all hands, are deserving great credit for their skill and energy in saving this boat to the company, and it was a perilous undertaking. Everything on her lower deck was lashed. Every bulkhead was illuminated with candles so that in case of being stove in, the hole could be stopped without delay. The lower deck was frequently submerged, and at one time so much so as to drive the fireman and deck hands to the stairs leading to the upper deck. The damage done to the stem occurred during the first mile after leaving her winter quarters.

Everything evinces a display of the greatest coolness and nerve of both Captain and engineer through the dangers they encountered, and both evince by their conduct since here, that they feel as having emerged from apparent and certain destruction.

A Mother Cuts the Throats of Her Four Little Children.

BALTIMORE, April 22.—About 4 o'clock this afternoon Mrs. Catherine Marsh, who resides with her mother, father and children at No. 95 Central avenue, proceeded to School No. 13, where her son James, a boy of about 8 years of age, was a pupil. Calling him into the yard, she enticed him behind a shed and cut his throat, nearly severing the head from the body, with a butcher knife. She then went home and cut the throats of her other three children, whose names were William, aged 6; Mary Jane, aged 5; George, aged 4, killing them instantly. Their heads were nearly severed from their bodies. She then cut the throat of her aged mother, inflicting injuries from which she cannot recover. At the coroner's inquest testimony went to show that the woman was insane. The mother, Mrs. Dyer, made an ante mortem statement that when the daughter came into the house she appeared to be very much excited, and she immediately went into the yard where the children were playing and cut their throats; then searched for the other child, who she found in one of the rooms, whose throat she also cut, after which she rushed upon her. She being paralyzed with horror made but feeble resistance. It is said there was no cause for the bloody deed, as her mother was fond, affectionate, and remarkably kind to her children and to her daughter. The murderess was arrested this evening, about 8 o'clock. When asked if she knew what she had done, she answered yes, she knew now. She is very quiet on the subject, and it is very evident that she is demented and has no realization of the terrible act. She is the wife of a barber named William Marsh, formerly of this city, who left her about a year ago, but is at present living in New York. The murder has created intense excitement, and thousands of persons have already visited the scene.

An American recently from Mexico says, that it is charged against Juarez in Mexico, by his enemies and friends alike, that a secret treaty has been made between the United States and Juarez for the sale of Sonora, Durango, Chihuahua and Cinaloa to the former, that the treaty was concluded while Seward was in the City of Mexico last winter, that when Juarez presented the treaty for ratification or approval to the Mexican Congress, that body refused to sign the same, whereupon the late rebellion broke out, which has been put down by Juarez, who has just carried the treaty by a successful war.

General Thomas was very seldom moved to anger, but whenever it did come, the storm was frightful! An infantry Colonel once stole a horse from a Union farmer in Kentucky, who complained of the act to General Thomas, who poured out a torrent of invective upon the officer, pulled him from the horse, tore the epaulets from his shoulders, and made him return the horse, and pay the farmer for his trouble.

The Washington correspondent of the Eugene Journal, writing April 9, says: "Mr. Garfield, of Washington Territory, expects to start home the first of next week. Mr. Gaston is unable to get the Portland, Astoria and McMinnville railroad bill up in the House on account of the continued opposition of Holman and other Democrats. Mr. T. McF. Patton, of Salem, is at Cleveland, Ohio. B. J. Pengra, of Lane county, B. F. Dowell, of Jacksonville, and a few other Oregonians are here."

Free Trade Illustration Illustrated.

[From the Chicago Republican.]

The free-traders had a meeting the other evening in Detroit, and the big guns and the little guns of free trade had a good time in knocking over in public the carefully prepared straw men they had set up for the occasion. The Hon. C. I. Walker "brought down the house" with this free trade stunner:

"The doctrine of protection rests on the principle that, so far as possible, we shall produce everything within ourselves, and by bounties and emoluments encourage those things that cannot succeed without it. Now, if this was true between nations, it was true between States, communities and individuals. If it was true as between Great Britain and the United States, it was true between Michigan and Ohio; between Detroit and Greenfield. Why then should not Detroit raise her own eggs, and have nothing to do with eggs from Greenfield, by placing a tariff of five cents per dozen on them. It is true it would cost more to raise them here, but then it would be an encouragement to home productions and industries, and therefore ought to be done. [Laughter.]"

The doctrine of protection rests on the principle that we should not be at the mercy of any monopoly, particularly a foreign one, which we will not be, when our country is as capable of competing with foreign nations in manufactures as Detroit is of competing with Greenfield in the production of eggs. There are a good many inhabitants in Detroit, and they require large quantities of eggs; should the people of Greenfield take it into their heads to charge monopoly prices for eggs, the people of Detroit would at once start the business of producing them, and thus bring the Greenfield people back to reasonable prices. Give Greenfield and the surrounding towns that supply Detroit with eggs, such monopoly as to place that city at their mercy in the prices of eggs, and Hon. C. I. Walker would seek another way of illustrating trade. Now, if the honorable gentleman is as sincere in his advocacy of free trade as he was in his sneer at the principle of "producing everything within ourselves," let him sell out his hens and keep only roosters; for roosters are the rawest kind of material used in the production of eggs.

SLEEP AND HABIT.—Sleep is much modified by habit. Thus an old artilleryman often enjoys tranquil repose while the cannon are thundering around him; an engineer has been known to fall asleep within a boiler, while his fellows were beating it out on the inside with their ponderous hammers, and the repose of a miller is in no wise incommoded by the noise of his mill. Sound ceases to be a stimulus to such men, and what would have proved an inexpressible annoyance to others is by them altogether unheeded. It is common for carriers to sleep on horseback, and coachmen on their coaches. During the battle of the Nile some boys were so exhausted that they fell asleep on deck amid the deafening thunder of that dreadful engagement. Nay, silence itself may become a stimulus, while sound ceases to be so. Thus, a miller being very ill, his mill was stopped that he might not be disturbed by its noise; but this, so far from inducing sleep, prevented it altogether; and it did not take place till the mill was set agoing. For the same reason the manager of some vast iron works, who slept close to them, amid the incessant din of hammers, forges and furnaces, would awake if there was any cessation of the noise during the night. To carry illustrations still further, it has been noticed that a person who falls asleep near a church, the bell of which was ringing, may hear the sound during the whole of his slumber, and be nevertheless, aroused by its sudden cessation. Here the sleep must have been imperfect, otherwise he would have been insensible to the sound. The noise of the bell was no stimulus; it was its cessation which, by breaking the monotony, became so, and caused the sleeper to awake.

When nine numbers of the Pickwick papers had appeared, the Athenæum reported as follows: "The writer of the periodical which is now before us has great cleverness, but he runs closely on some leading hounds in the humorous pack, and when he gives tongue (perchance a vulgar tongue) he reminds you of the baying of several deep dogs, who have gone before. The Papers of the Pickwick Club, in fact, are made up of two pounds of Smollet, three ounces of Sterne, a handful of Hook, a dash of a grammatical Pierce Egan—incidents at pleasure, served with an original sauce piquante." How is this for prophetic criticism?

A letter from New York, speaking of the McFarland trial, says: "By the way, its funny to read the Herald report of it. Many years ago, Bennett and the leading lawyer in this case, had a bloody ruction, and Graham, among other cutting remarks, said to Bennett: 'Don't ever dare to print my name in your paper; if you do, I'll horsewhip you the morning of its issue, if you are above ground.' And sure enough from that distant day to this, John Graham's name don't appear, when occasion demands a reference to be made to him, 'counsel then said,' etc., and that's all the notice Graham ever gets from the Herald."

Repudiation Reaffirmed

Such speeches as that delivered [illegible] by Mr Slater on Wednesday evening must con[illegible] [illegible] the [illegible] [illegible] were [illegible] persuade the [illegible] that their party is [illegible] to repudiation. Mr Slater is somewhat [illegible] the [illegible] of stating his position [illegible] he here before but his utterances are [illegible] as early for repudiation as then. Practically his position is the same. He still explains equitable adjustment to mean that the gold value of the bonds at the time they were sold to the Government shall be ascertained, and that they shall be settled for [illegible] paid on that basis. The surplus or bonus, as he calls it, is of course to be rejected or repudiated. Thus the bonds now outstanding are to be called in and new bonds are to be tendered in their stead at the rate of 40, 50 or 66⅔ cents on the dollar as the case may be, to correspond with the gold value of the original bonds at the time they were purchased. Practically and in fact, this would be tantamount to a repudiation of fully half the debt. Mr. Slater is bolder about this matter than the leading journal of his party. He has courage enough to maintain substantially the position he took at the beginning of the campaign but the newspaper organ that started with him in advocacy of this doctrine has been frightened into silence.

But Mr Slater as the first candidate on the ticket which his party has presented must be accepted as the authorized exponent of the views of the party on this as well as on other questions. The issue as he presents it, cannot be misunderstood. Anti-repudiation Democrats who heard him are forced to confess that he avowed the substance of the odious doctrine, however vehemently he denied the name.

We are curious to hear what the Albany Democrat will say of Mr Slater. All its disavowals of repudiation will not avail against his unmistakable declarations in favor of it. All its earnest and labored arguments of the last four weeks to prove that there is nothing like repudiation in the platform, go down at once before the explicit statements of Mr Slater, who speaks by authority of the party and who says that only the gold value of the bonds at the time they were first purchased shall be paid, and that all the rest shall be "equitably adjusted" by cancellation. If this is not repudiation what is it? The Albany paper has admitted that to deal thus with the debt would be repudiation, and has censured the Herald, for advocating this very method. Let us see now how it will deal with Mr Slater. Hereabouts anti-repudiation Democrats are excessively disgusted with the lameness of his logic and the dishonesty of his arguments.

Editorial Notes

Certain ones among the Democracy of this county hope to make a point for their ticket by boasting that their candidates for the Legislature are men who "can't be used by Ben Holladay." It strikes us that this is a trifle more severe on Mr Stout than on the Republican candidates.

Grasshopper Jim's specialty is rats. He once wrote an essay on the rat which raised him to the eminence of a recognized authority on that interesting rodent. Having made so fine a hit on that occasion, and determined still to follow the bent of his genius, he is now trying his hand on a series of articles which he entitles "Ben Holladay's rat hole proposition."

Col. W W. Chapman was nominated by the County Democratic Convention on Wednesday for County Surveyor. The Colonel publishes a letter in which he states that as he was a candidate for Governor he "cannot look upon this nomination in any other light than as a burlesque." Therefore he indignantly directs that his name "be taken from that ticket at once."

Mr Slater in his speech on Wednesday night expressed great concern lest the elective franchise may be bestowed upon the Chinese. Needless alarm. The Republicans govern the country and they are not going to augment the power of their opponents in this way. They know, as the New York World has expressed it, that the Democratic party is wonderfully successful in "voting ignorant masses," therefore they do not intend to increase the power of that party by enabling it to get the Chinese vote.

The New York Tribune in an article on the condition of business and the industrial prospects of the country, says: "Our weekly imports, as indicated by the returns of revenue collected show no material reduction when compared with those of former and of preceding years, nor do we hear of many furnaces blown out or factories stopping work. On the other hand, new stacks, new mills, are almost daily set to work, our farmers are all busy, and are employing more labor at the South, and not less in other quarters, than in former years, so that, if there be no change for the worse hereafter, the aggregate product of our national industry in 1870 will exceed that of any former year."

A new and startling discovery has been made by the astute Democratic organ of this city. "Ben Holladay," it has ascertained, is throwing sand and gravel into the river at a point where he is grading for his railroad, with a view of filling up the bar below, so that ships cannot reach this city! "Ben Holladay,"—such is the purport of the astounding intelligence conveyed to our citizens—"is interested in destroying our harbor because it will be a long step toward accomplishing his threat to make a rat hole of Portland!" Cannot this harbor-destroying and city annihilating monster [illegible] be dissuaded from his dreadful purpose of filling up the river and thus making it impossible for his own ships to connect at Portland with his railroad? Cannot the Common Council interpose?

We receive the most cheering accounts from the places in Eastern Oregon visited by the candidates for Governor. We are assured that Gen Palmer has made many friends and that as elsewhere there are many old time Democrats who will give him their support rather than to Mr Grover, or any other man standing upon a repudiation platform. Our Republican friends are jubilant over their increased strength and are at work as they never worked before to redeem the counties from the stain of voting for repudiation. We believe from all accounts we have that the Democratic majorities in the eastern counties will be greatly reduced and in some of them entirely overcome. Our advices are that Gen Palmer and Gov Woods are making splendid headway against Grover and Reed, that they have everywhere gained manifest advantages.

Slater Proved a Repudiationist

No speech has been made in Portland for many years more completely successful than that delivered by Judge Wilson Wednesday evening. We have heard it spoken of by many people as one of the most clear and unanswerable speeches they ever heard. The Judge certainly did make very many excellent points against his antagonist. [illegible]

The Judge's most effective effort, however, was made in following Mr Slater and attacking him on the question of repudiation. He showed in the clearest manner that the Albany platform is an open declaration for repudiation, and that when Mr Slater attempts to [illegible] the plan of paying the bonded debt in greenbacks or alternative bonds, [illegible] face of the [illegible] guilty of declaring for repudiation. The plain question, as Judge Wilson stated it, shall the debt be paid honestly at its full face, or shall it be scaled down and a part of it repudiated? Shall the government break its faith and ruin its credit by compelling its creditors to take an obligation to pay $500 for an obligation to pay $1 000, or any sum less than the face of the bond. Five hundred millions of the bonds were made payable in gold, others were sold without specifically stipulating for payment in gold, but they were issued when there were less than four hundred and fifty millions of legal tenders in existence and after Congress had forbidden by law any further issues of such money. There were issued about $2 100 000 000 of bonds. Could it have been understood by either of the contracting parties that the entire issue, after counting out the gold bonds, should be paid in legal tenders, under such a state of things? Did the Government contemplate, with only four hundred and fifty millions of legal tenders, to pay twenty-one hundred millions of bonds? Did the buyers, knowing that there were only $450 000 000 of legal tenders (and all further issues forbidden by law) contemplate the payment, or the possibility of payment of $2 100,000,000 of bonds in legal tenders? It could not be possible on the supposition that either of the contracting parties had ordinary sense. Then the conclusion is irresistible that the intention on the part of the Government and the expectation on the part of the buyer were that the bonds would be paid in coin, even in the absence of a specific agreement, as coin was the only other lawful money of the United States. To pay the bonds, then, in legal tenders at a discount is repudiation of so much as the discount should be.

Mr Slater had acknowledged in his speech that the future issue of so large an amount of legal tenders as would be necessary to pay the debt, would result in great depreciation of their value. They might go down to 66⅔ cents or 50 cents or 40 cents. To make an "equitable adjustment," in such a case he would give the bondholder the alternative of taking legal tenders for his bond or another bond at less interest, amounting to say, 66⅔ or 50 or 40 per cent of the amount expressed on the face of his original bond, according as it should appear that the original bonds cost the holders upon an average, 66⅔ or 50 or 40 cents in coin for a bond dollar.

Judge Wilson then showed that this was no less repudiation than was the Herald's proposition to give back to the bondholder only the gold he had actually advanced with interest, less the interest on what it was pleased to call "bonus." Slater's plan would be to make such an issue of legal tenders as, upon his own admission, would depreciate them to a figure as low as perhaps 40 cents. Then he would pay the bondholder in this currency, worth only 40 cents on the dollar and call the debt cancelled, or if the bondholder did not want legal tenders, then give him the "alternative" bond, 40 cents for a dollar, or 50 or 66⅔ cents, as it might be discovered to be "equitable." It requires no very acute reasoning faculties to see that this proposition would lead to exactly the same result as would that of the Herald—the one so emphatically commended by Mr Fay's "compulsory disgorgement" letter. That is to say: when the bondholder should present his bond calling (by solemn contract) for $1,000, Slater and Fay and the rest of the Albany crowd, would pay him $400 and call the debt "equitably adjusted!" This is confessed, rank repudiation, and no denial nor apology, nor ingeniously chopped logic can avoid the conclusion.

Vacancies Filled.—The County Republican Committee have filled the vacancies in the county ticket by nominating Mr E M Burton for Commissioner and Dr J W Mack for Coroner. These nominations are excellent selections and will command the approval of all Republicans.

In Maryland the Republicans are preparing for a vigorous campaign and are confident of being able to redeem the State. A careful canvass shows that since the adoption of the Fifteenth Amendment the Republican vote of the State is about 80 000, while the Democratic vote does not exceed 70 000.

OREGON.

The State Agricultural Society has advertised for proposals to erect buildings on the Fair Ground.

The average Republican majority at Oregon City on Monday was 38½. The average majority on Councilmen was 43. This is the largest average majority gained for several years and it is operating well for June.

The Statesman has the following from Yaquina: Mr Horace Miner, who returned yesterday from a trip to Yaquina, informs us that he found business there quite lively. A large number of men are at work on the mills, the hands at work on the schooner were waiting for lumber, but would be supplied this week. The people at the Bay are very much distressed at the loss of Captain Dodge and his son. All sorts of rumors are in circulation on the subject. They are anxious to receive any news of the recovery of the bodies or the wreck, or anything in connection with the sad affair.

Senator Corbett writes to a gentleman of this city, under a recent date: "We shall get about $31,000 to continue the work on the Wallamet below Portland and at its mouth. The Appropriation Committee will give us $40 000 to continue the work on our custom and court house building, $15,000 for Astoria custom house, $10 000 for the Dalles mint building (to enclose it). To all these appropriations I have given my personal attention. The committees have been disposed to cut down appropriations, so I have had to watch them. You know we have already had $100 000 appropriated for our building [the Portland court house] and this makes $140 000. I hope to get other appropriations and other measures favorable to our State."

A Brilliant but Sad Career.—I know nothing in fiction wilder and more romantic than the life of Richard Brinsley Sheridan. The son of an Irish actor endowed with the most brilliant and varied gifts of nature, high spirit, a noble presence, imagination, wit and eloquence—all those qualities that win the admiration of men and the affection of women—yet, without a shilling in the world to call his own, without either of those recommendations which form the passport to the highest circles of English society—high birth and university honors—the author of the "School for Scandal" rose by the mere force of his genius and rose almost at a bound, to the highest position in the ranks of political and social life at a period when political and social life in England was tainted by the narrowest and most exclusive spirit that has ever distinguished the aristocracy of that country. He held that position and held it with eclat all through a long life the rival of wits like Coleman and Horne Tooke, of orators and statesmen like Pitt and Fox and Burke, and of men of genius like Byron and Scott. He died almost in the arms of a sheriff's officer, and was buried with honors almost regal, with princes of the blood for his pall bearers in the sepulcher of great kings and statesmen. It was a brilliant but a sad career, full of startling contrasts, marked by many humiliations and many victories, by great failures and great successes, and yet now, when one asks what remains of all this success, it is not easy to frame an answer. A speech or two which no one now thinks of reading, except to trace in its most vivid colors what he thinks the false taste of the age in eloquence and wit, the fleeting recollection of a few epigrams and [illegible] and two or three sparkling contributions to the literature of the drama, are all that remain to mark the genius of the man who for thirty years was the pride of the palace, the bower and the hall.—Chambers' Journal

FRIDAY MORNING, MAY 6, 1870.

CITY.

COMING AND GOING.—The side-wheel steamer California, which left San Francisco at 11 o'clock yesterday morning, as we learn from the Chronicle's dispatch, brings the following passengers: Wm B Clews, Benj Cutter, Miss Anna Castle, Mrs J H Hill, C Rockwell and wife, Harvey Hagler, C Colburn, W H Mennasser, Miss Nathan, Mrs M E Hagler, Miss Rothschild, M Kaisen, Joseph Franklin, S Bates, S S Thompson, J B Wheeler, J Baum, J S Hinsdale, E C Lord, J Byers, Mrs J Parris, daughter and sister, S Wells, J P Lacy, John Brown, A Van Dusen, John Green, Mrs A J Elliott, Mrs Pat Smith and daughter, Rev C E Bonnell, Wm Cree, M W Henderson, A Sharp, H A Turner, R C Johnson, A Taylor, E Mier, Mrs Capt Babbitt and servant, F H Weninger, M Goldsmith, J B Waldo, J B Coon, Mrs E M Geiger and son, C Parrish and 3 children, Chas Wilkay, Chas Haslett, Mrs Mandona and son, C C Lane, John Klotz, John Johnson, Sam Johnson, Mrs Ann Johnson, Miss Kate Johnson, Miss Jane Johnson, 23 others and 150 in the steerage. The outgoing steamer Moses Taylor, for San Francisco this morning, takes the following passengers: Mrs E Giddings, Miss A P Clark, Miss C Latchley, Miss E Taylor, J P O Lownsdale and 2 children, Mrs Geo L Gibson, Mrs W S Butler, Judge Sawyer, Miss Rena Barry, F Levy, Milton Nobles, Mrs S H Cox, J J Dempsey and wife, Mrs S Babbitt, J P Backet and wife, Mrs C M King, M C Hakins, James Drummond, C J Miller, J R Bates, A S Reese, J W Grimm, L C Dayton, Rev Thos Sommerville and lady, J A Dodge and wife, Drury Davies, C Garzo, Mrs A K Warren and child, Mrs A Snow and 3 children, S W Staples, B H Way, Milton Andros, Mrs M P Moore and 2 children, T J McKenney, wife and daughter, Mr Birmingham, Rev T S Kendall, Father Richard, Hallie Juneger, J W Wham, Mrs Bentley and 2 children, E McQuillan, wife and child, F Comms.

BRIEF MENTION.—There has been no fire alarm in this city since Thursday, the 19th of April.

The Police Court has had nothing to do for two days. This dearth is unprecedented.

Willamette Engine Company No. 1 had a surprise at the regular monthly meeting last evening. A bevy of ladies visited the hall, and a social party and dance succeeded the business of the evening. It was a very pleasant affair.

Mr. Geo. LaRocque, of the Imperial Mills, Oregon City, leaves this morning for an Eastern tour. We hope he may have a pleasant trip.

W. T. Shanahan has moved his pianos to the store of S. J. McCormick. Mr. S. has some magnificent instruments.

Willamette Tribe, No. 3, Independent Order of Red Men, will give a ball for charitable purposes, on the 12th, at Armory Hall.

Boys and Celestials are having fine times the last few days kite flying.

Two new frame stores are being erected at the corner of Salmon and First streets.

Mr. John Wilson will commence to move into his new store about the 15th.

The excavation of Salmon street has been cut through the embankment to Ninth street.

Quite a street improvement is noticable on First and B streets, near the residence of Mr. E. D. Green.

Plank to continue the Salmon street improvement to Seventh street, began to arrive on the ground yesterday.

GOING HENCE.—Among the passengers for the East, leaving this morning by the Moses Taylor, are to be found Mr. James S. Anderson, locomotive engineer, late of the Oregon; Mr. James Jeffries, late conductor on the O. C. R. R., and Messrs. David Brown and George Robinson, also late employes of the O. C. R. R. Mr. Anderson was a locomotive engineer from the Milwaukee and St. Paul Railroad. He was running a first-class engine on that road at the outbreak of the war. He gave up his situation and took the position of a high private in the ranks of the 24th Wis., when the Government stood in need of men, and served through the war. He was under Gen. H. Larrabee, and was in all engagements with his regiment until 1863, when he was made a prisoner by rebels at Chicamauga, and was, after that time in the lousy dens of prisons provided by our "Southern Brethren" for captured Federals. He was finally paroled, and returned to Wisconsin, to again take his locomotive on the M. & St. P. R. R. In 1868 he came to Oregon, but returned to the Central Pacific Railroad, and was employed there until last fall, when he again visited Oregon, and has been engaged upon the Oregon Central until last week. Mr. Jeffries was also through the war, we believe, in a Connecticut regiment. They go back to "Old Wisconsin" now, but we think will find the climate so much worse there, since they have had a taste of Oregon, that eventually they will all come back here.

COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES.—A friend has furnished us with a few particulars of the interesting exercises at Forest Grove, this week, beginning on Sunday evening by a reunion of the College alumni, on which occasion Dr. Bushnell, President, delivered an address, and the graduating class were addressed by Rev. Mr. Lucas, to which Mr. Frank D. Stott responded. On Tuesday evening the Gamma Sigma Society was addressed by Rev. Wheeler Getty, of Oregon City, upon the importance of the study of classics. The Alpha [illegible] Society was also addressed by the Hon. W. Lair Hill, of this city, upon the subject of progress. The addresses were very well received and highly spoken of. On the following day, Wednesday, orations of the graduating class were delivered, and essays by the young ladies graduating class were read. The degree of A. B. was conferred upon Frank L. Stott and Mr. [illegible], and the degree of M. S. conferred on Miss Neal, Miss Evans and Miss Clarke. These exercises were interesting—the graduating classes both ladies and gentlemen acquitting themselves creditably, exhibiting a high grade of scholarship. The degree of D. D. was conferred upon Rev. E. C. Atkinson, of this city, and that of A. M. upon Rev. P. S. Knight, of Salem, W. Lair Hill, of Portland, and one other, whose name our informant had forgotten. A reunion at the house of Dr. Marsh, the President, closed the exercises.

SEWERAGE.—In a very few years some system of sewerage will be a positive necessity in this city. There is a loud call for sewers now on a few streets, but as the construction progresses the want will become more apparent. This prospective need had much to do with the late purchase of [illegible]rological instruments, and we are glad to know that the City Council have taken this step. It shows a desire to act understandingly. Philadelphia, as we have before stated, is our ideal of a city, and we shall refer to her often no doubt, as a model in the building up of Portland, now so auspiciously commenced. And just now our attention is called to a great sewer which Philadelphia is constructing, and which, when completed, will remind one of the vast sewers of Paris, we have read about and seen lately illustrated. The section now in process of construction is 2,647 feet long. It is laid in dry stone, with a brick lining eighteen inches thick laid in cement. The stone wall is at least thirty feet wide at the base, but is [illegible] narrower at the top. The conduit is of twenty feet diameter from side to side, and of about nineteen feet in height. It is estimated that 380,000 cubic feet of water per minute can pass through this conduit on a gradient of 322 feet per mile, or 1½ inches in 100 feet.

OH, PSHAW!—The Herald produced half a column yesterday morning, which was intended to cause a sensation. Grasshopper Jim had been down to Gooch's wharf, and observed the employes of the Oregon and California Railroad shoveling "gravel and sand" at the East Portland embankment. He failed to see a locomotive and train of cars on the track, for the purpose of conveying this "gravel and sand" out upon the flat beyond, and supposed that the "gravel and sand" was pitched into the river. With this view of the matter, Grasshopper Jim jumped and cavorted about the fearful work of Ben. Holladay's men "destroying our harbor," and cited it as another point to prove that Holladay is determined to "reduce Portland to the condition of a rat hole." We not need take up space to contradict such elaborate statements. Ben Holladay's men have never thrown, all told, to exceed a ton of gravel into the river at that point. Any damage to shipping need be feared, the idea is absurd. And if the whole bank was dumped into the river it wouldn't damage the navigation a whit more than a freshet in King's creek.

I. O. R. M.—The following is a list of the Officiating Chiefs of Multnomah Tribe, No. 3, Improved Order of Red Men. Alex. Campbell, S.; John C. Work, S. S.; William Palmer, J. S.; Ward S. Stevens, C. R.; Chas. S. Mills, K. W.; John A. Blanchard, P.; S. V. Fuller, 1st S.; E. J. Jeffrey, 2d S.; A. B. Brannan, G. W.; J. C. Beard, G. P.; Robt. E. Bybee, 1st. WALLAMET CUSTOMS DISTRICT.—A letter from Senator Corbett, dated Washington, April 18, contains the following: "I have been over frequently to the House to urge the passage of the bill creating Portland a Port of Entry and creating the District of the Wallamet. The Committee said at one time that they had agreed to report it. I found afterwards that this statement was an error, when I went to the Secretary of the Treasury and got him to write letters urging the House to pass the bill in order that an export bonded warehouse might be established. The Committee have now agreed to report the bill and it will pass the House as soon as it can be reached or as soon as the Committee is called." Senator Corbett is entitled to much credit for the indefatigable manner in which he has urged this bill.

NEW INVENTIONS.—We inspected a new invention at the establishment of Messrs. Carson & Porter, being made by C. C. Phillips on designs of Wm. H. Wetsell. It is an ice box, on the principle of a rotary table. The ice is enclosed at the top, and the property designed to be kept cool is enclosed in casements. The principle is good, and Messrs. Wetsell and Phillips have a good thing in it. A box after this pattern calculated to contain fifty pounds of ice will stand in a space of twenty six inches, and can be opened on four sides, but from only one position. Each door will lock itself, and be opened by a secret spring. It is a "safe" ice box. Mr. Wetsell has also applied for a patent for a handy little clasp for newspaper and legal cap fastenings.

NO. 3s FURNITURE.—Paul Richter & Co. have the contract for furnishing the furniture for Columbia Engine Company No. 3. It will consist of richly chased black walnut upholstered sofas, five in number; eighteen small chairs, Warren style, and one large chair for the President's seat. We saw the carving and design of the President's chair yesterday. It is creditable workmanship, and will be highly ornamental to the hall of No. 3. The design is very pretty. The columns represent a hydrant around which is coiled an imitation of a section of hose. The legs are each surmounted with a phœnix head, the foot representing talons clasping a ball.

GOOD TEMPLARS.—On May 3d, C. Beal organized Wheatland, Yamhill County, Lodge No. 124, with 55 charter members. Just as the last name was obtained, the floor of the room broke down falling some six feet to the ground, with the crowd. Order was restored, the women and children lifted out, another hall secured and the organization completed. The officers are: Josiah Beal, W. C. T.; Mrs. J. Chum, W. V. T.; M. O. Moses, W. S.; John Baker, F. S.; H. Morrison, W. T.; James McDonald, W. M.; Miss Fowler, W. D. M.; Miss Miller, I. G.; [illegible] Smith, O. G.; [illegible] Hewett, W. C.; M. B. Hendricks, L. D.

POSTPONED.—The Sabbath School picnic, announced last week as coming off to-morrow, has increased in its design till it now will include in its numbers all the Sabbath School children in the city who may wish to go, and in order to accommodate all, the Oregon and California Railroad agree to run two trains on that day; but this increase of numbers involves more time, and the Committee in charge thus far have been compelled to postpone the day for the picnic to Saturday morning, 14th inst., instead of to-morrow.

NEW CHURCH EDIFICE.—The plans for a new church edifice, to be built for St. David's Parish, (Episcopalian) East Portland, made by C. B. Burns, Architect, Philadelphia, Pa., were received here sometime since. The church will be similar in appearance to Trinity Church of this city. Specifications have been made for the work, according to the plans, by C. B. Talbot, and we hope soon to chronicle the commencement of the work.

DEDICATION.—The new Lutheran church in this city will be dedicated on Sunday next. Rev. Geo B. Selling, of Harrisburg, Pa., who is to preach the dedication sermon, arrived yesterday. The dedication will take place at 2:30 P. M., on Sunday afternoon. All are invited. The people will have the opportunity of hearing this eminent minister also on Sabbath morning at 11, and in the evening at 7½.

GOING EAST.—Judge J. W. Grim takes his departure this morning via San Francisco, for Illinois, to be absent two months. Rev. T. S. Kendall, of Linn county, will also go as a passenger by the Taylor this morning. He will attend the General Assembly of the United Presbyterian Church on the 25th instant, at Pittsburg, Pa., representing the Oregon Presbytery in that body.

ONE HUNDRED MORE.—Estes & Stimson will add 100 feet to their new wharf right away. They say that their mill must be kept running, and if parties do not purchase the surplus they will themselves use it in improvements about their own premises.

JOINT DISCUSSION.—Hon. A. C. Gibbs and R. E. Bybee will discuss the political issues of the day at East Portland this evening. These gentlemen are the opposing candidates for the office of District Attorney for this judicial district.

THE WEATHER.—The weather has changed around again, and become very docile. We shall not be profuse in our praise and admiration of this event, lest it ungratefully turn upon us as it has done frequently of late.

THE LATE BISHOP SCOTT.—Friends of the late Bishop Scott will be pleased to learn that they can get a very life-like portrait of him at Hillman's. Also of Mrs. Scott. They are very fine pictures.

PLEASANT ROOMS.—We invite the attention of parties wishing rooms, pleasantly situated, and board in a private family if desired, to the advertisement "Board, Pleasant Rooms."

MORRISON STREET.—The work of grading Morrison street is progressing out beyond Ninth street. The extension will soon be made on this street through the lettered blocks.

PERSONAL.—Gov. Ballard arrived from Boise City on Wednesday evening, and left for Linn county yesterday morning. After a visit of about a week he will return to Idaho.

THE RIVER.—At noon yesterday, the water measure on the O. S. N. Co.'s wharf indicated a rise of seven inches, for twenty-four hours.

PAPER.—H. L. Pittock & Co. received 14,400 pounds of assorted paper by railroad yesterday, from the Clackamas mills.

Since the story has been told how Judge Breckinridge married a girl whom he saw jump over a rail fence with a pail upon her head, the girls of Orange county, New York, are said to spend their time in watching the road, and whenever they see a carriage approaching with a man in it they seize a pail and go for a fence.

"My husband offered me a choice of a piano or a Grover & Baker Sewing Machine, for a Christmas gift. I chose the latter at once, and am more than delighted with it. WM CORNMAN & Co., Agents.

MR B L STONE, No. 107 Front street, Portland, Oregon, has been appointed Sole Agent for Oregon, of Chas E. Jacot's celebrated Watches. He will always keep a supply of these valuable watches and will be able to fill all orders. Mr Stone also has a fine lot of other watches and Jewelry of all kinds.

"TIME TRIES ALL THINGS."—The transition from one season to another has a worldly effect upon the styles of clothing people wear, but Time, which proves all things, has proved that Kohn & Fisher are ever ready, and up to the season with every grade of goods necessary to please the most fastidious. Please call and examine their latest importations.

Caution.—Audacious Counterfeit!

The reputation which, for many years, has attached to "Hostetter's Stomach Bitters," as the STANDARD TONIC OF THE AGE, and the demand for the article, not only in the United States but elsewhere, have provoked the cupidity of the counterfeiting tribe, and it has been extensively simulated and imitated by unscrupulous sharpers.

The most daring counterfeit of said article, which has been attempted, has recently come to our knowledge. The engraved steel label on bottles containing the genuine bitters with its beautiful vignette of St. George and the dragon, its shield, containing a warning against counterfeiters, and its note of hand for "one cent," at the foot, signed with our firm name, has been copied so closely, that the fraud can only be detected on a minute inspection. The dark label is also well counterfeited, and the wording on both the imitation and the genuine are precisely the same, the difference being simply in the execution of the work; that of the imitation being somewhat coarser than the genuine. Other counterfeits are on the market, which are in all particulars the same as described above, with the exception of a slight difference in the spelling of our name.

In addition to the above, these counterfeiters have gone so far in some instances as to place a strip of paper over the cork and fasten to the neck of the bottle, on which is a vignette, and otherwise printed to resemble the general appearance of our proprietary U. S. Revenue stamp, but upon inspection will disclose the absence of the figure "4" and the words "four cents," also "United States Internal Revenue," all of which, together with additional wording appear on our genuine stamp. The public are, therefore, especially warned against these new Counterfeits, and are advised to purchase Hostetter's Stomach Bitters only of houses whose integrity is above suspicion. The true specific is sold in bottles exclusively—never in bulk.—HOSTETTER & SMITH.

REPUBLICAN PLATFORM.

"The Union Republican party of Oregon, in Convention, makes this declaration of its principles and policy:

1st. Unfaltering devotion to the Union, first, last, and forever; and unwavering fidelity to the Constitution and its amendments, and to the laws of our National Legislature.

2d. We wholly approve the principles and policy of the administration of President Grant, as carrying into practical application the principles for which we have successfully striven. And we particularly commend these points in his Inaugural Address, wherein he declares—"let it be understood that no repudiator of one farthing of our public debt will be trusted in public places, and it will go far towards strengthening a credit which ought to be the best in the world," and "I would protect the law abiding citizen, whether of native or foreign birth, wherever his rights are jeopardized or the flag of our country floats;" and "I will have no policy to enforce against the will of the people."

3d. We have confidence that the Administration will wisely and firmly protect the interests and sustain the dignity of the Nation in respect to other nations, and especially with regard to our just claims against Great Britain.

4th. We denounce all forms of repudiation as a national crime,—and the national honor requires the payment of the public indebtedness in the uttermost good faith to all creditors at home or abroad, not only according to the letter, but the spirit of the laws under which it was contracted. And for this purpose, we favor a strict economy in the Administration of the National Government, and the application to such payment of all surplus revenue, from whatever source derived, and that taxation should be equalized and reduced as rapidly as the national faith will permit.

5th. We make no distinction between citizens, whether of foreign or native birth, and that we sympathize now and ever with men of all nationalities striving for self government.

6th. That we are opposed to any change in our naturalization laws which shall admit to citizenship any foreigners not now entitled thereto under said laws.

7th. We favor a judicious system of railroad and river improvements in Oregon, in order to develop our resources and invite settlement of our unoccupied territory, and for this purpose insist that Congress should make us liberal grants of aid.

8th. We are in favor of a tariff for revenue, with such discriminations in favor of home manufactures as will not diminish its efficiency for the purposes of revenue.

9th. We favor universal amnesty to the people of those States lately in rebellion, which have been restored to their relations to the Union.

10th. We are in favor of free schools, [illegible] the cause of education, and are opposed to any diversion of the common school funds of this State to any other purpose than the support of common schools.

11th. We recognize in the Union Republican party the measures and men who saved the Government from destruction, and that its continuance in power is the only sure safeguard to national peace and prosperity. And with this platform we appeal to the voters of Oregon for their suffrages and support."

G. VENARD,
CHARTRES COFFEE!
Manufactory Established in June, 1851.
STEAM POWER, NOS 625 AND 627 FRONT ST.

HAS CONSTANTLY ON HAND GROUND AND ROASTED COFFEE, GREEN COFFEE of the best qualities. CREAM OF TARTAR and SPICES of all sorts.

The undersigned, who has always enjoyed public confidence for the excellent quality of his Coffee, neglects nothing to justify the good name acquired by his productions, the sale of which daily increases. The acknowledged superiority of his merchandise, which commands here, and in the markets of the interior, a relatively higher price, excites the cupidity of some manufacturers, and every day he sees increasing the number of those who, by counterfeit or imitation of his mark, seek to deceive the public, palming upon them their inferior productions for the genuine G. VENARD CHARTRES COFFEE. This fraud can deceive nobody after a trial, but only adds to the favorable opinion of the consumers, the very flattering though unwilling testimony of the counterfeiters. Nevertheless, buyers should be forewarned, and placed on their guard against this practice.

BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS.

Each package bears the signature of G. VENARD.

Constitutional History.

The following is the order in which the original thirteen States adopted the Constitution of the United States. According to a provision in the Constitution, it became binding upon the State ratifying it when adopted by nine States. New Hampshire was the important ninth State:

1. Delaware, December 7, 1787.
2. Pennsylvania, December 12, 1787.
3. New Jersey, December 18, 1787.
4. Georgia, January 2, 1788.
5. Connecticut, January 9, 1788.
6. Massachusetts, February 7, 1788.
7. Maryland, April 28, 1788.
8. South Carolina, May 23, 1788.
9. New Hampshire, June 21, 1788.
10. Virginia, June 26, 1788.
11. New York, July 26, 1788.
12. North Carolina, November, 1789.
13. Rhode Island, May 29, 1790.

The Convention of Delaware met, adopted the Constitution unanimously, and adjourned in a single day.

The Convention of Pennsylvania adopted the Constitution by a vote of 46 yeas to 23 nays.

The Convention of New Jersey adopted the Constitution unanimously.

The Convention of Massachusetts was composed of about 350 members, and, when it met, was opposed to adopting the Constitution. The majority for its ratification was only 19 votes.

When the Convention of New York, met the opponents of the Constitution were about two-thirds of the whole body. Alexander Hamilton's logic and eloquence secured a majority for it.

North Carolina remained out of the Union more than eight months after the new Government went into operation. The convention met and adopted "resolution that a bill of rights and certain amendments ought to be laid before Congress and the convention that might be called for amending the Constitution, previous to its ratification by the State of North Carolina," and the convention was then dissolved.

Rhode Island remained out of the Union for upward of thirteen months. The General Assembly, instead of calling a convention to consider the Constitution, referred that instrument to a direct vote of the people at their town meetings. Only 232 voted for the adoption of the Constitution; 2,708 voted against it.

Subsequently, the Legislature called a convention, the Governor giving the casting vote for so doing, in the smaller branch of the Legislature. The convention adopted the Constitution by a majority of only two votes, the yeas being 34, and the nays 32.

THE [illegible] APPORTIONMENT [illegible] FOR THE WEST AND SOUTH.—A dispatch to the New York Herald, dated April the 1[illegible] says: "The Congressional Apportionment bill, which was engineered through the House to-day by Norman B. Judd, of Illinois, is a shrewd dodge upon the part of the West and South to gain additional power in the [House], and in fact, to control its action in [basing] its apportionment upon the basis of the census 1870. This will be the [basis] of the Forty-second Congress, and it will be observed that the bill which passed to-day relates wholly to that Congress. It is estimated that the bill will give the South and West about twenty-eight additional members, apportioned somewhat as follows—Ohio, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Missouri, North Carolina and Virginia two each, and Wisconsin, Minnesota, Kansas, California, Michigan, Texas, Kentucky, Alabama, Arkansas, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, South Carolina and Tennessee one each. New York will have two and Pennsylvania one additional member. [It is] however, [said] that the Eastern and Middle States will gain by the bill. The pro[vision] which allows the Eastern and Middle States to retain their present representation through the Forty-second Congress is a [sop] to that section, and was intended as [a bait to keep] members from those States from suspecting the real object of the measure, which is to get such a preponderance of Western and Southern men in the Forty-second Congress in order that they can apportion the members of the House of Representatives among the several States to suit themselves. The members from the New England and Middle States fought the bill to-day at every step, and exhausted parliamentary tactics to defeat it; but the combined strength of the South and West was so great as to carry it by a respectable majority.

The Darien Expedition

Correspondence of the New York Tribune.

[illegible], March 22.—It is exactly a month this day since the survey began, and we have now surveyed and mapped four different lines, the total distance traveled being about sixty-five miles. But two things are certainly known, namely, that the base of the [illegible] is at least 110 feet above sea level, and that surveying parties are pretty sure to strike the [illegible] Saturday nights, because grub is generally a little extra on board ship Sundays. [illegible] On the first expedition I carried in all about fifty-five to sixty pounds—too much anywhere, but when the road is in the bed of a stream, often waist deep, paved with loose cobble stones, it is enough to kill a horse. On shore, the roots and stumps make it more fatiguing than the river. Boots, at first, are in great demand, but as they fill with water over the tops you have to cut holes to let it out, and then they fill with sand. Very soon shoes and leggins are preferred, but wading works this chief with leather. Five days is as long as a pair of shoes will hold out.

We are now relieved of carrying our food by the reinforcement we have received from Carthagena of ten little donkeys. This is their first day of trial; their load is 150 pounds, in bags and boxes. They stumble and quiver at every step, and it is a wonder they get on at all over such a road, but this is nothing to what the country is ahead. Half a mile above the camp to-night it is said our way is up an inclined [illegible] water falls, flowing through deep perpendicular gorges of Sienite—very good for a geological excursion, but not enjoyable to a man progressing on all fours. It will be rough on donkeys, and much more so on us, if they give out and we have again to carry grub ourselves.

Our chief uneasiness now is whether, after being drenched night and day in the valley by wading, rain and perspiration, we shall find any water on the mountain tops. We can cut 3,500 to 4,000 feet per day on passable ground, but here we think it unspeakable; yet we are going to the Chuquanaqua all the same. The sun never reaches us in the woods, and we are getting quite bleached, though no one is yet on the sick list, and I am beginning to have considerable hopes of the climate. Still the fatigue begins to tell, and you don't hear "Shoo Fly" in the woods so often.

We see very few birds, very little fruit, and that strict orders forbid being touched, the Indians making a great stand for their bananas. There are plenty of small trout in the streams, some monkeys swinging by their tails from the distant trees, and plenty of creeping, crawling and stinging things, beside coral snakes, which the Indians say are "mucho malo," and they are fond of creeping into camp of nights. We start in line at 7 A. M. and return at 4 to wash ourselves and clothes, and get on anything dry we are happy enough to have; then feed while the food lasts (now and then there is none); then smoke, and when the rain doesn't put the fire out we dry clothes; then fix up bunks, and at 8 o'clock turn in. We then scratch, and kick, and cuff, until, after saying our prayers at least four times in our desperation, we at length fall asleep, generally to wake up when the musquitoes and creepers have conquered sleep, and rise to go off and doze in the smoke of the fires till morning. Of the value of the explorations, and ultimate success of the canal, I have no doubt.

PROTECTION VS. FREE TRADE—THE CASE OF CANADA.—The New York Evening Post truthfully says: "Canada is losing its population. The people are coming to the United States. The Canadian Government takes measures to encourage immigration to supply the deficiency, but the immigrants do not remain there. Of the 33,000 who landed there last year, only 13,000 remain."

Canada, be it observed, is enjoying the blessings of a low revenue tariff. Her farmers have that choice of "two markets"—the domestic and the foreign—which the Post and its school delight in. Their public debt is moderate and their internal taxes are light. If free trade were the true policy, they would be enjoying signal prosperity—but they are not. A farm on our side of the line is worth considerably more than one located just across the border; and the industrious classes are coming away from cheap land and cheap labor to share the benefits of protection. Should not these facts induce reflection?

FINANCE AND COMMERCE

PORTLAND, Thursday, May 5, 1870.

No gold quotation to-day. Yesterday the New York quotation was 114½—a decline of ¾ from the day before.

Portland legal tender rate, 87½c.

Money is in moderate supply, the general circulation being decidedly more free than during the early part of the year. There are several items to be taken into the account in explaining the causes of the greater ease in the money market. A considerable number of interior debtors have settled their long-standing bills; the mines are already sending down some dust; the country east of the mountains is buying produce here to some extent; the influx of eastern and California people has aided to swell the circulation somewhat; and investments in real estate which are becoming quite free, have taken considerable sums from the banks and placed them among the people. Altogether, these things in conjunction with a lighter call than usual from San Francisco, have operated to give the country a volume of money sufficient for all legitimate business purposes, and to stifle the cry of hard times heard from one end to the other a few months since.

Of trade for the week, not very much that is encouraging can be said. It is already a little past the season when a brisk trade in spring supplies could be reasonably expected, especially in such classes of merchandise as are classed in Spring styles. The bulk of business for the week has been in such goods as are in constant demand—the ordinary necessaries of life. The aggregate must be materially less than the average for any week of last month.

AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENTS—The market is but sparingly supplied at present with machinery, only a few of those ordered from the east, having arrived. The Ida F. Taylor now nearly due, will bring large stocks to our leading houses. All our quotations are firm. We observe a few machines on the dock to-day for shipment to Harrisburg and Eugene City. DRY GOODS—Business dull the entire week. GROCERIES—There has been a fair trade in this line. For the last day or two, however, orders filled have come from the city or near it into the valley. HARDWARE—Business has been a little better than heretofore. Some few government orders have been shipped and some buyers from the Sound have been supplied. One of our importing houses has shown us a telegram from the Hardware trade of San Francisco, advising of an advance in the price of nails to $5 25 per keg by the invoice. We quote nails firm. In other merchandise lines we find nothing particularly worthy of note.

PRODUCE—We have to note an advance of 2½c per bushel for white wheat and a corresponding rise in red. There is a good inquiry at the advance and we quote firm figures. OATS—In demand at 45 per bushel, an advance of 5c since last. FLOUR—We quote all extra brands as before. Superfine and fine grades are in better request than formerly, though the prices of shipments per the steamer to sail to-morrow morning, will be of extra family and bakers grades. There is a better feeling among the bakers and dealers than has been for some weeks. BACON—The supply of all sorts has steadily increased within the last few days and inquiry has been slow, owing to prices tending to weakness. ARGS—Fresh prices advanced to $1 25; [illegible] supply and [illegible] ONIONS—Scarce [illegible] at $1@1 25 per bushel. FISH—Pacific [illegible] and [illegible] dealers offering [illegible]

TO THE UNFORTUNATE.

NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES.

Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,

623 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as [illegible] Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases of years standing and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

Horrible Disease.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of certain indulgences, or from virus absorbed into the system! Look at their pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this sad situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene! Let parents, guardians, friends, attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life-destroying maladies—see that they are cared for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon, a physician who has made private diseases his special study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of these charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self-abuse. This solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, is practised by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing, with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combated by scientific medical measures, viz: Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, a disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequently insanity. If relief be not obtained should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating his diseases, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of the complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

MARRIED MEN,

Or those who contemplate marriage, who are suffering under any of these fearful maladies, should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them, nor delay obtaining immediate relief.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give to each patient a written instrument, binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

CURED AT HOME.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Dr. Gibbon, stating age, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions for use, for Ten Dollars, sent in registered letter or through Wells, Fargo & Co.

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders! who, with bogus sworn-to certificates, dupe the unwary. Some of the self styled doctors, whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco and other places, are tradesmen, and became too lazy to work at their trades. Some are gunsmiths, shoemakers, newspaper carriers, Intelligence office keepers, etc. Look over the San Francisco Directory, and you will not find their Medical Institutes in it, but you will find their former occupations in it. Look at the Directory for 1862 and 1863. The only way to avoid imposition is to make enquiry—it will cost you nothing, and may save you many regrets; for, as advertising physicians, in eight cases out of ten, are bogus, there is no safety in trusting any of them unless you know who and what they are. Dr. Gibbon does not deceive people by exhibiting bogus titles, certificates, pretended patient's letters, etc. Dr. Gibbon will satisfy persons who may call at the office of his ability to treat disease that he proposes to cure.

Address DR. J. F. GIBBON, 623 Kearny street, corner Commercial, (Private Entrance on Commercial) San Francisco. Post Office Box 227.

REMEMBER TO PUT BOX 1956 ON THE LETTER.

Consultations FREE.

Correspondents will please inform DR. GIBBON that they read his advertisement in the Daily Oregonian. jy24dtf

THE WESTERN MONTHLY FOR 1870.

THE CONDUCTORS OF THE WESTERN MONTHLY have aimed to publish a Magazine which should properly represent the growing Literature of the great Mississippi Valley—hitherto without a representative among the Literary Magazines of the country. Encouraged by the hearty appreciation and support thus far extended by the public, they will spare no pains or expense to render the future excellence of their magazine, and make it more invaluable to all.

The Third Volume of this Periodical begins with the January number. In this number will be commenced a new Serial Story entitled "The Rolling Stone," by George Sand, which will be the greatest work of this great artist, and one of the most readable stories ever produced.

The Steel Portraits and Biographies of Prominent and Representative Western Men, which have proved so popular and distinctive a feature of the Magazine, will be continued. In addition to the above, THE WESTERN has [illegible] Regular Contributors among whom are the best writers in the West.

Terms of the Western:

Single Copy, $3 per year, in advance; Five Copies $12 [illegible]; Ten Copies for $20, and an extra copy [illegible] [illegible] Specimen number mailed to any address on receipt of 25 cents.
